

Mary Ellen Joyce

For twenty five years, my goal has been to continue developing and evolving as an artist. As a self-taught artist in acrylics and oils, I find joy in the creative and learning process of painting. My most meaningful comments come from peers who see value and beauty in my art. In addition, I have received numerous awards throughout the years. Notably in 2012, my art earned first place and “best in show” at the Ayden Collard Festival.
