

NANCY BLASS WINN

I was born in the Berkshire Mountains of Massachusetts, close to the studios of Norman Rockwell and Dr. Seuss. Both artists are an inspiration to my work, actually my work is closer to Seuss' with its childlike whimsy. I grew up in southern Michigan, outside of Pontiac. I have been a Middle and High School teacher in North Carolina for over 25 years, I am certified in Secondary Mathematics and K-12 Art. Throughout the day I work with kids ranging from 10 to 19, who greatly influence the themes in my artwork. I love to explore different media and most of my work ends up as a mixed media piece. I work in watercolor, color pencil, ink, acrylic, collage, photography, and computer graphics.
